A photocopy of the heavily annotated George H. Clapp copy. Legend has it that Clapp once told Mehl that he was mendacious, and not aware of the word's meaning, Mehl thanked him. Certainly, no love was lost between the two, as the annotations in this catalogue amply demonstrate. There are zingers galore and, also, a great deal of solid, detailed information on rarity, die varieties and pedigree. A few zingers examples: "Have never seen a catalog with more false and/or misleading statements." To the left of the coin illustration heading the descriptions of "Liberty-Cap Cents of 1793" Clapp notes: "Pretty tough to have to use a cut of 1795 to illustrate 1793." Commenting on Mehl's use of the phrase "fine for coin," Clapp opines: "This usually means 'not quite good.'" Underlining this Mehl sentence: "While the 1798 cents are not rare dates but any of them are extremely rare in choice condition, especially so the rare varieties," Clapp proclaims: "English as she is wrote." To Mehl's statement that "The portions that are struck up can be easily be classed as very fine" Clapp exclaims: "Gosh!" To Mehl's "Originally classed as uncirculated," Clapp responds "I suppose this was when it left the Mint." "Beautiful English" is the term Clapp uses to describe Mehl's sentence: "A very rare variety in still greater rare condition." And on and on. Guaranteed to provide many hours of entertainment and enlightenment

The first two issues of this landmark American numismatic periodical. Only 200 copies of the first issue were printed. Given its ephemeral appearance, it is probable that fewer than half that number have survived

104 THE NUMISMATIC SCRAPBOOK. VOLUME I, NOS. 1-6. Chicago: Lee F. Hewitt, January-November, 1935. 24mo. Original yellow card covers, mostly printed in two colors. Fine. (85.00)
The first volume complete. The originals offered here are most easily distinguishable from the later reprints by the oval borders enclosing the title on the front covers. The titles are printed in black ink but the January and July borders are printed in red ink. March and September in green ink. May and November in black ink. The covers of the reprints are printed entirely in black ink.

The second volume complete. The originals offered here are more difficult to differentiate from the later reprints since the covers of both are printed entirely in black ink. The printing is crisper on the originals (on the reprints the ink seems, like most offset reprints, to sit right on the surface of the paper) and the covers and text are slightly different in appearance.

Original matching brown cloth, spines lettered in gilt, bindings badly worn and dampstained, contents largely unaffected. (100.00)
One of the earliest numismatic works to employ photography. Though only one photograph is utilized, an allegorical frontispiece in which coins are depicted, it was an important advance heralding the importance photography would play in numismatic book illustration.

292 Landi, Constanzo. SELECTIORUM NUMISMATUM, PRAECIPUE ROMANORUM, EXPOSITIONES, ELEGANTIBUS NUMORUM ECTYPIIS, & INDICIBUS NECESSARIIS INSTRUCTÆ. Lugduni Batavorum (Leiden): Procudivit Baldinus van der Aa, 1695. (14), 164, (8) pages, title printed in red and black with a large engraved vignette, finely engraved frontispiece, 45 engraved plates of Roman coins and medals. Quarto. Contemporary speckled brown calf, red morocco lettering piece, gilt, remaining spine compartments heavily decorated in gilt, front cover detached else fine. (150.00) Hirsch page 72. Lipsius page 218. This work is a reissue with a different title of Landi's previously unillustrated In Veterum Numismatum Romanorum published in 1560. The plates are delightfully engraved, each illustrating one or two Roman coins in a contrived setting of classical antiquities. The frontispiece is a composition of ancient Roman monuments and antiquities with coins being dug up and catalogued by historians.

293 Lane-Poole, Stanley. COINS AND MEDALS: THEIR PLACE IN HISTORY AND ART. London, 1885. x, 286 pages, text illustrations. Original brown quarter morocco, gilt, top edge gilt. (20), 496, (24) pages, title printed in red and black with a finely engraved vignette at the base, a few engravings of ancient coins in the text, 1 finely engraved full-page plate. SUMMA DILIGENTIA & MAGNO LABORE COLLECTA. Antwerp: Ex officina Christophori Plantini, 1579. First Edition. (16), 398, (10) pages, including the final privilege leaf, Plantin device on title. Quarto: 21 x 16.5 cm. 18th century brown half calf, gilt, extremities a bit worn, front cover detached, small wormhole extending through the first 26 leaves, top margin closely trimmed and a trifle stained, last leaf backed, contemporary marginal annotations. (250.00)

Lipsius page 292. The rare first edition, very much scarcer than the Augsburg edition of 1601. Adolph Oco (1524-1606) was a German doctor and humanist from Augsburg whose work in the field of Roman numismatics is acknowledged as a major factor in the early development of numismatics as a science. This work is of major historical importance as it abandons the grouping of Roman coins by metal and adopts, instead, a chronological classification.

297 Patin, Charles. THESAURUS NUMISMATUM. E MUSEO CAROLI PATINI, DOCTORIS MEDICI PARISIENSIS. Amstelodami: Apud Jodocum Pluymer, 1672. (12), 1-48, 48-49, 49-219, (1) pages, finely engraved title vignette, woodcut initials, headpieces and tailpieces, finely engraved dedication and headpieces, numerous textual woodcut engravings of ancient coins and inscriptions throughout. (bound with) Patin, Charles. DE NUMISMATE ANTIQVO AVGVSTI ET PLATONIS, EPISTOLA CAROLI PATINI, D. M. P. Basiliæ: 1675. 16 pages, engraved coin vignette on title. Quarto: 26 x 19.5 cm. Contemporary vellum over boards, orange-red paper spine label, gilt, front hinge broken, contents a bit loose, light marginal staining. (150.00)

Lipsius page 308. Dekesel NUM. 27 & 33. The main work is the very scarce second issue of the first edition, and comprises a detailed account of the author's own coin cabinet. A portrait and final leaf called for by Dekesel are not present in this example. Dekesel notes that the second title "is the first part of a series of various tracts written, edited or published by Charles Patin during his lifetime and in which the pages are numbered consecutively."

298 Pinkerton, John. AN ESSAY ON MEDALS: OR, AN INTRODUCTION TO THE KNOWLEDGE OF ANCIENT AND MODERN COINS AND MEDALS; ESPECIALLY THOSE OF GREECE, ROME, AND BRITAIN... London, 1808. Third Edition. Two volumes. xlv, (4), 376; (8), 448, (16) pages, 6 engraved plates. Contemporary paper boards, sympathetically rebaked, printed spine labels. (100.00)

The best edition of this opinionated but fascinating general guide to coins which provides considerable insight into the state of coin collecting in early 19th century England. Handwritten indexes have been added to each volume by John Amplett, perhaps the original owner, whose autograph graces the front flyleaves. Also with the ex libris of George Ward, and occasional pencil annotations in the text of the first volume.

299 Q. Curtius Rufus. DE REBUS GESTIS ALEXANDER MAGNI, CUM COMMENTARIIS RADERI, SALMASII, BONGARSII, GRONOVII, POPMAE, LOCENII, & FREINSHEMII... Lugduni Batavorum: Excudit Petrus van der Aa, 1696. (14), 818, (2), 86, (50) pages, title printed in red and black with an engraved vignette, finely engraved frontispiece, with a number of finely engraved plates of coins, other engraved plates, several of which appear to have been removed. Thick octavo: 20.5 x 13 cm. Contemporary calf, spine decorated in gilt, label mostly missing, spine ends a bit worn, joints cracked. (100.00) Lipsius (page 94) lists only an 1724 numismatically illustrated edition of Curtius. Ex libris White Wellingwells.

300 Strada, Jacob de. EPITOME THESAURI ANTIQVITATVM, HOC EST, IMPP. ROM. ORIENTALIVM ET OCCIDENTALIVM ICONVM, EX ANTIQVIS NUMISMATIBVS QVAM FIDELISME DELINIATVR. Tiguri: Apud Andream Gesnerum, 1557. (72), 335, (1) pages, woodcut printer's device on the title, woodcut initial, numerous attractive engravings of ancient coins in white on a black ground throughout the text. Octavo: 18 x 13 cm. Early brown calf, rebaked long ago, spine decorated and lettered in gilt, extremities worn, small hole in two preliminary leaves, minor intermittent stain on bottom margins. Very good. (500.00) Lipsius page 383. One of the more attractive early illustrated numismatic books. The author was an antiquarian who acted as a purchasing agent for Emperors Ferdinand II, Maximilian II and Rudolph II and also bought coins for the Fugger cabinet in Augsburg. The handsome illustrations are similar in appearance to those found in Fulvio and Hutich, the first two illustrated numismatic books.

Lutetiae: Parisiorum: Sumptibus Joannis Jombert, 1692. Two volumes in one, complete. (12), 256, (8), (6), 397, (33) pages, numerous engravings of ancient Roman coins throughout the text of both volumes. Contemporary full vellum, occasional light browning in the text. Fine. (150.00)
Hirsch page 132. Lipsius page 409. One of this prolific author's most important works

Original blue cloth, gilt, glassine "spider web" dust jacket. Near new. (45.00)
An informative history of the firm "that built the metalforming presses that produce everything from pots and pans to aerospace components," including coins and medals. Beyond a fascinating chapter recounting the multiple settings up of these coining mints in China for the production of "brass and silver" coins, there is relatively little other direct numismatic content. The technology involved in making pots and pans, aerospace components, and coins, however, is often similar and much important numismatic background information is to be found in this interesting and important work.

An interesting polemic promoting silver coinage, with a number of very amusing caricatures. The author's view of the condition of the country a century ago provides proof that politically-inspired hyperbole is nothing new in America: "Hard times are with us; the country is distracted; very few things are marketable at a price above the cost of production; tens of thousands are out of employment; the jails, penitentiaries, work-houses and insane asylums are full; the gold reserve at Washington is sinking; the government is running at a loss with a deficit in every department; a huge debt hangs like an appalling cloud over the country; taxes have assumed the importance of a mortgage, and 50 per cent of the public revenues are likely to go delinquent; hungered and half-starved men are banding into armies and marching toward Washington; the cry of distress is heard on every hand; business is paralyzed; commerce is at a standstill, riots and strikes prevail throughout the land; schemes to remedy our ills when put into execution are smashed like box-cars in a railroad wreck, and Wall street looks in vain for an excuse to account for the failure of prosperity to return since the repeal of the silver purchase act."
